

PRESS RELEASE

ANDREW ALUISE: HARMONY PURSUIT
NOVEMBER 11 - 16, 2019

Andrew Aluisse presents Harmony Pursuit, the first of his two senior shows within ArtCenter's fine art program. This show presents nine of Aluisse's recent works and includes pieces ranging from drawings to sculptures.

Center stage in the exhibition is a sculpture that bridges the ceiling and ground through an assisted readymade fountain, Steady Well 2019. Here we see a fire sprinkler dripping water into a pyramid of drinking glasses. The system which combats flames is now weeping into a tower of everyday objects; inspecting true function within the systems ingrained into our lives.

The scrutiny of Aluisse's gaze is perhaps most evident in his sculpture, Gratification 2019. In this work we see a snake wrapped around a stick. This intertwining of the snake and stick creates a physical lock in space. The snake has a bulge within its stomach, implying that it has just eaten. The snake's physical desires are fulfilled; the threat held within the serpent is no more.

Aluisse consistently renders mundane objects, imagery, and situations through an exaggerated lens. Though the mundane is not the foremost of his concerns. It is just one element in highlighting a greater vision of trust and faith in the systems that either keep us afloat, or sink us to the bottom. His vision transforms objects and images into performers, performing real time doubt, and real hope.

Andrew Aluisse was born in Pittsburgh, PA, in 1996.

ArtCenter College of Design 870 S. Raymond Pasadena CA

CHECKLIST

ANDREW ALUISE: HARMONY PURSUIT

*Uncle Candy lost it all on Monday,
Coffee, oat milk, half & half, and soy milk
on an architectural window
2019*

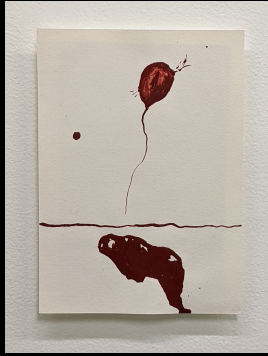

*Steady Well,
Custom fire Sprinkler, water, drinking glasses
2019*

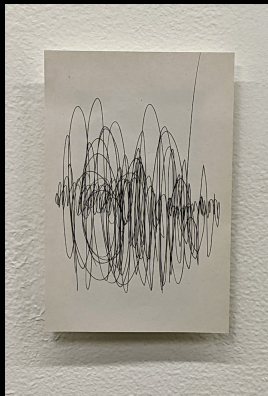

*Fairly Still Life,
Ink on paper
2019*

*Newly Formed Bond,
Oil on canvas
2019*

Pop,
Ink on paper
2019

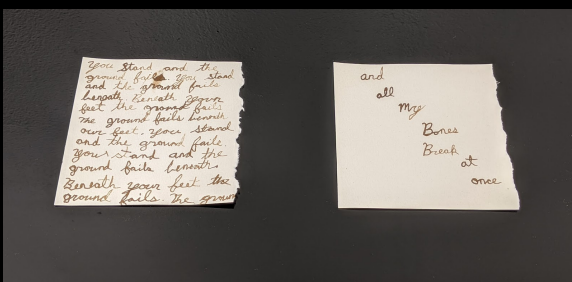

Moment Drawing,
Ink on paper
2019

Fried Soap,
Fried Dial soap
2019

Gratification,
Wood, clay, paint
2019

Trusting the ground,
Ink on paper
2019